For the second time, the International Foundation for the Law of the Sea (IFLOS) is organising a Summer Academy

“Uses and Protection of the Sea – Legal, Economic and Natural Science Perspectives”

which will take place at the International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea (ITLOS) from 3 to 31 August 2008.

If you are interested in further details of the programme please refer to www.iflos.org

The Summer Academy is an international centre of excellence for studies of both international law of the sea and maritime law and includes related topics of economic and natural sciences. Again, it will bring together a prestigious faculty from among the judges of the Tribunal, professors and professionals from the maritime field with a dedicated group of some 30 highly motivated participants from around the globe. In close co-operation between the International Tribunal for the Law of the Sea, the Foundation and the Sponsors, 17 participants from developing countries were provided with scholarships, enabling them to attend the Academy.

IFLOS is pleased to announce two events in the courtroom of the Tribunal which will be open to guests, namely a Panel Discussion with a high-profile group of participants and a guest lecture by Professor David Caron from Berkeley as set out at the front page of this invitation.

We would like to invite you to attend these two public events and ask you to return the registration form as soon as possible.
